Cauliflower

EARLY EXPRESS SNOWBALL. Undoubtedly the finest and most popular early variety of my imported seed. If you have had trouble with others, you can make no mistake in trying this Snowball. Heads very early, of medium size, firm, compact, solid and very white; plant compact in growth with few short, upright leaves.

EXTRA EARLY DWARF ERFURT. An excellent sort, producing good sized creamy white heads; one of the best for general cultivation.

DRY WEATHER DANISH GIANT. This variety produces extra large, compact, pure white heads. The foliage grows tall and gives the heads a splendid protection against unfavorable seasons. It is well adapted for growing in all locations and will stand an unusual amount of dry, warm weather.

Cabbage

Earliest Oblong Heads

EARLY JERSEY WAKEFIELD. One of the best and most popular early varieties. Forms round, pointed heads of good size. Is very hardy and on account of its thick outside leaves is able to resist cold and other unfavorable conditions to a great extent.

CHARLESTON LARGE WAKEFIELD.

About one week later than Early Jersey Wakefield, but the conical heads are fully one-half larger.

TRUE EARLY WINNINGSTADT.

Early variety of excellent quality. Good to succeed the Jersey Wakefield. Heads are pointed, solid and dark green.

EXTRA EARLY ROUND. This new cabbage is very early, heads are solid as a rock, weight from 4 to 6 pounds. It is surely the earliest of all Round Cabbage and will stand long after being ready to cut without splitting. Give Extra Early Round a trial.

ALL HEAD EARLY. As early as most of the early summer cabbages; the deep, flat heads are remarkably solid and uniform in color as well as in shape and size. Splendid sort for kraut making.

COPENHAGEN EXTRA EARLY ROUND. The Copenhagen Extra Early Round strain is certainly one of the most valuable maturing cabbages there are and it is ready for market as early as the Early Jersey Wakefield. It is the most popular early cabbage in the markets of Copenhagen and has become equally as popular in America. It has a solid core of excellent quality, making it a best seller. The plants are short-stemmed and may be set closer than most varieties. It is a vigorous grower and fine keeper. After once planting this variety you would not change for any other. My seed is the finest there is, direct from the originator in Denmark.

GLORY OF ENKHOUSEN. This desirable cabbage, Glory of Enkhausen, is very early, with large sized, solid heads. It is a dwarf and compact grower which allows of close planting. This cabbage is especially desirable for market growers to be set out in July after the early Spring crops are harvested. This strain of Glory is a very large yielder. I have many satisfied customers that claim it is the best cabbage that they ever grew and will yield from 20 to 30 tons per acre.

Winter Sorts

DANISH BALL HEAD CABBAGE. The great popularity of the Danish Ball Head Cabbage is truly remarkable. This cabbage seems to adapt itself to all soils and conditions. Chief among the characteristics of the Ball Head Cabbage are: it is a sure header; it is of unrivaled solidity and weight; it is an especially fine keeper; and it is a good seller.

The Danish Ball Head may be a medium to late cabbage, but is usually grown as a late crop. The heads are round and extra heavy. A feature of this variety is that it can be grown in close quarters, because of its compact habit. The keeping qualities of the Danish Ball Head are unequalled, coming out in March as fresh as when put in the pit, with no waste. This cabbage is a popular variety in the markets of the largest cities.

DANISH ROUND HEAD. This strain of cabbage grows in large solid heads on short stems and has the same keeping qualities as the famous Danish Ball Head. It is from ten days to two weeks earlier than any of the other varieties of Danish cabbage and produces a yield unequalled by any other cabbage. Crops of 20 to 28 tons per acre are not uncommon. The heads are large, almost perfectly round and very solid. There is no finer strain of Danish Cabbage for shipping in late Fall. Once a grower, always a grower of this cabbage.

RED DANISH STONE HEAD. This strain of late Red Cabbage originated in Denmark, is considered one of the best cabbages introduced. In growth, the plants, are strong and compact, producing dark red, round solid heads of hard cabbage. The red color extends through to the center of the head. This makes the cabbage valuable for the home garden, for market or for pickling.

RED DUTCH. This is a very well known standard. Heads are slightly rounded and a large size.

Brussels Sprouts

DANISH EXTRA. A popular delicious vegetable that it cannot be too strongly recommended. It is a heavy yielder, producing solid sprout on the stalks.

Kale or Borecole

DWARF GREEN CURLED. A low growing variety, with densely curled large, deep green leaves of excellent quality.

Important—Cabbage and Cauliflower

1 ounce of seed will produce about 2,000 plants, 6 ounces to 1 acre. Use a small seed drill, do not sow seed over 1-4 of an inch deep and not too thick.

For early cabbage sow the seed as early in spring as possible, latter part of March or in April, transplant the plants when about 5 inches tall. In planting it is very important with Cabbage and Cauliflower, that the plant is set down to the first leaf, in rows 24X30 inches.

For late or winter crops the seed is sown about the 10th of May and the plants set out about July 1st in rows 2X3 feet.

Soil for Cabbage should be with good drainage, a heavy moist and rich loam is most suitable, the ground should be highly manured and worked deep. Cultivate frequently.

What Our Customers Say

Kindly save me two pounds of the Danish Imported Cabbage seed like I had last year. I think they were the Ball Head short stem, it was the best seed and cabbage I ever grew.

H. D. Spencer. Brockport, N. Y.

I never before had seeds so good as the ones I had of you, in fact every seed germinated, and every plant is healthy and a good grow. I planted a lot of them in Maine before coming here, and have a lot more growing here. All are equally vigorous.

Harry B. Graves, Falmouth, Mass.

Dear Sir,—We grew an excellent crop of Cabbage from the seed purchased of you last Spring. We had a good chance for comparison as one portion of the field was set out to plants from different seed. We consider your seed superior to any we have had.

Yours truly, T. R. & E. E. Miniee.

Swedish Victory Oats

This is an excellent fine oat, first year's crop from Imported Seed. It is a big plump extra heavy oat, and undoubtedly the best and most profitable for this section. The grain is white, large, very plump and of superior quality. The straw is medium high and very stiff. Oats will do well on good and medium good land. Our stock is limited, will suggest that you order early.

The Seed Oats that I grew for you, from imported Swedish Victory Oats, yielded 70 bushels per acre. Considering the very dry season it was beyond all expectations. The oats out yielded my common oats by 25 bushels per acre.

The Swedish Victory Oats did not blight and they stood up well.
